SECURE LICENSE BUT NEVER MARRY

Lithuanian Couple Ignorant of Marriage Laws in America Make Mistake.

TWO CHILDREN ARE BORN

Secure Marriage License in 1911 and Think No Further Steps Necessary for Wedded Life.

Securing a marriage license at the court house in Rock Island in 1911, a Lithuanian couple whose names are withheld, thought this was all that was necessary to make them man and wife and thereby proceeded to rent house-keeping rooms and since that time they have been living together in East Moline. It has just developed that the couple was never married.

The woman entered an East Moline bank recently and protested because the man she supposed to be her husband was drawing out too much of their money. She was asked to prove that she was married and produced her license. But that was all she could show for proof and when told that a ceremony was necessary after securing the license she was greatly shocked.

Have Two Children. Two children have been born to the couple. The opinion has been expressed that there are a number of foreign couples in East Moline in this same fix, who think they are married because they have a license, but in reality are not.

POLICE CAPTURE A ROBBER GANG

Number of Men Held at Silvis in Connection With Series of Thefts.

The police of Silvis believe that they have broken up a band of robbers by the arrest Wednesday of more than a dozen men, said to be implicated in various petty thefts. The plan has been to take the contents of freight cars between Silvis and Davenport and ship spoils back to Silvis by wagon.

A number of those who have been placed under arrest are railroad men and the police think that by their aid the robberies have been carried out successfully. Most of the men arrested are in the jail at Silvis, one or two having furnished bail.

A storekeeper in Silvis is probably responsible for the rounding up of the gang. He has been in the habit of buying certain articles from some of the thieves, never suspecting where they came from. The thieves would then turn around and rob him of the very things they had sold to the store. Four arrests were made yesterday as stated in The Argus, but more are expected to follow.

Results of business for the year 1913 were disappointing to the officials of the company but nevertheless it shows the company to be in excellent

SAW BURGULARS WORK BUT DID NOT REPORT

A bottle of whisky is all that was taken from the saloon of Adolph Roeland, 256 Third avenue, by two men, who are said to have entered the place last night through the Third street window. The cash register was broken open, but there was no money in it, the bartender having taken the day's receipts to a place of safety.

In connection with the burglary the police were informed that a coal hauler who stopped in a restaurant at Davenport this morning said that he saw two men enter the saloon. When asked why he didn't inform the police he said: "Oh, that's none of my business."

EDUCATE PEOPLE WAY TO PROPERLY BOOST THE CITY

Speaking before the business men at the noonday luncheon of the Moline Commercial club yesterday, Rev. R. S. Haney, pastor of the Second Congregational church of this city, said that the people must be educated to better the conditions of the city.

"People fail to take advantage of their schools and colleges," continued Mr. Haney, "and yet it is through aiding individuals to better their conditions that a city becomes more prosperous and a better place in which to live."

Mr. Haney said that in boosting the city people should be shown just why this is a better place to live than any place else.

FATHER FIRST CAME TO THIS COUNTRY IN 1826

James Franklin Carr, who died in Buffalo Prairie Feb. 25, was the son of Peter Carr, who first came to this country in 1826. At that time he passed through from the central part of the state to Lafayette county, Wisconsin, and the Indians ferried him across the river. The son, James Franklin, was the last of the immediate family, his death following 10 days after that of his only sister, Mrs. Marietta Kelley. Mr. Carr came from his home in Wisconsin for a visit with Mrs. Kelley. On the day of his arrival she was taken ill and her death occurred Feb. 15. The brother remained with her till the end, and then he, too, was taken ill and his death followed.

Mr. Carr was born in Buffalo Prairie within a mile of the place where he died, Sept. 14, 1838. He had lived in Wisconsin many years.

Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Hayes, Mrs. Rosella Kistler and Miss Minnie Kelley of this city; Frank Kelley of Hedrick, Iowa; Fred Kelley of Illinois City, and Ben Dunlap of South Rock Island have returned from Cuba City, Wis., where they went with the remains and attended the funeral.

BIRDMEN PLAN TO INAUGURATE AIR LINE BETWEEN NEW YORK AND BOSTON

George B. Adler (insert) and Abraham Raygorodsky.

New York, March 5.—An airship line from New York to Boston! That's the plan of Abraham Raygorodsky, known in flying circles as Aviator

Ray, and George B. Adler, the Russian aeroplane builder.

Adler, it is said, has already constructed several 16-passenger machines of the Sykorsky type which were successfully used in Russia and other European countries. He is now on his way here, not only to supervise the construction of a mammoth aeroplane for the transatlantic flight which will be held this summer, but also to supervise the construction of several machines to be used for the proposed air line.

According to the plans of Adler and Raygorodsky, the trip will cost $5 and every four hours machines will leave from the main depot which is to be established at Coney Island.

Several airmen have expressed skepticism with regard to the success of the enterprise. They declare that the science of flying is not yet sufficiently developed to make such a line pay, and that the line could not be used in winter. The promoters, however, declare that several big financial men have been interested.

Ray and Adler are both Russians and both experienced birdmen. The former is now flying at Mincola, Long Island. Adler, who is 33 years old, is a graduate of the Technology Institute of St. Petersburg.

WOMEN REGISTER IN PERSON ONLY

Town Clerk Besieged by Phone Calls Daily From Women Who Want to Vote.

George M. Gould, town clerk, says he is daily besieged by women who call him on the phone to inquire as to their privileges and duties at the spring election. The majority want to know whether or not some one else can register for them. The clerk says all women must register in person or they will not be allowed to vote. Many think they can vote by telephone.

Women must go through the same formalities as men when registering, and must give their correct ages. Those who are married must in all cases give their Christian name.

Mr. Gould will soon distribute among the voters of the city and township about 5,000 pamphlets which will describe minutely the methods and requirements for voting. He hopes to have the books ready by March 17 as he has almost completed collecting data.

These pamphlets will be of special benefit to women voters who do not understand methods of voting and registration.

Predicts Correct Number.

Julius Herwyn, one of the enumerators at the recent taking of the city census, is a prophet. He predicted exactly what the population of the city would be. His guess of 28,410 proved to be right. A number of names have been added during the past few days, making the total this number.

An Embarrassing Moment.

Sir Edward Chandos Leigh tells this anecdote in "Bar, Bat and Bit." It was told to him by the Dowager Lady Cowper apropos of the days when all the joints were carved on the table. She was a debutante, very shy, and her old host, who was about to carve a sirloin of beef, turned to her and said, "Lady Anne, will you have upper or under?" Lady Cowper said to me that she had not the least idea what he meant, so in a weak moment she hazarded "upper." Whereupon the host turned to the butler and said in a loud voice, "Take it away and turn it. Young ladies give a great deal of trouble nowadays."

One Letter Names.

Names with only one letter have been bestowed on places as well as persons. There is a village called O in Normandy, not far from Argentan. Two Chinese towns are named respectively Y and U. There is a river Y in Holland, and one of the bays of the Zuyder Zee bears the same brief name. France has a river and Sweden a town of the name of A.

Only Her Latest.

"What is your last name, please, madam?" inquired the clerk, deferentially.

"My latest name," corrected the literary woman, who is always careful of her English, "is Mrs. Havre Fourth ab."—Kansas City Star.

Simplicity and Nobility.

Between simple and noble persons there is always a quick intelligence. They recognize at sight and meet on a better ground than the talents and skills they may chance to possess, namely, on sincerity and uprightness.—Emerson.
